

Christian New Year Poem: Another New Year to Trust God

Christian Poem about living with expectant hope and trust in God

Don't look back on the year that has been
But look forward to what is still unseen

The new thing that God is about to do
Is what we should look expectantly to

Because, as we trust God with our future days
And continue to walk in all His ways

He guides us into the new year ahead
With an expectant hope, not fear or dread

For we have our hope and purpose renewed
When we walk by faith in all that we do

And every challenge that we're bound to face
We can do so with God's amazing grace

For it's God who empowers us to be Living in His love and His victory

So, we can walk into another new year
With confident trust in the God who cares

Knowing He's with us in each precious day
Empowering, strengthening and leading the way

For our hope in the Lord is firmly secured
In the eternal promises of His living Word

So, trust this new year into God's tender care
And rejoice in it for the rest of the year.

© By M.S.Lowndes

Devotional: Moving Forward

Christian Poem: Trust In God | Isaiah 43:18-20

By using this poem, you signify that you have read & agreed to my 'Terms Of Use'.
<https://www.heavensinspirations.com/terms-of-use.html>